

Come be a part of Tractor Fest at The Farmers' Museum in Cooperstown, NY as we explore the world of farm tractors and small engines and how these machines powered America's farms. Vintage tractors from John Deere, Ford, and International will be on display representing the growth of farming technology from the 1920s until today. See tractor demonstrations, enjoy wagon rides pulled by tractors, even learn to drive and operate a compact utility tractor. There will be other small engines at work and much more - fun for the entire family!

For those with a deeper historical interest in tractors, Syracuse University history professor Milton Sernett will give his talk, Ford-Fordson Tractors Come to the Farm, 1920 – 1940 on Saturday.

Thanks so much for thinking about sharing your time and talent with our guests!

Please RSVP for Tractor Fest at The Farmer's Museum October 9 & 10, 2010
